THE MIGHTY BEAST—GONE.
THE CHAIN STORE HERE.
18 PARTNERS.

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Feb. 6.—
The world changes when you come through the Cajon pass, gateway to southern California, from the high desert east of the mountains.

On the desert with room for a thousand cities you see a dozen men, watching their affairs, long trains rolling by eastward and westward.

You climb 1,400 feet to the top of the pass, which is 4,900 feet high,
passing the wonderful Verde ranch,
with innumerable artesian wells
spouting millions of gallons of water, 2,500 feet above sea level.

Through the pass, the road leads by San Bernardino, where Mormons
from Australia settled long years ago, and were visited by Mormons from Salt Lake City, coming in their slow ox carts.

On ancient graveyards monuments
you may read that so and so, faithful Mormon, lies buried, slain by a mighty beast.

The Cajon pass was frequented by big grizzly bears in those old days.
The mighty beasts worried and killed many. Now they are gone, and real estate developments replace them.

A little lower down and you are among the orange groves and find people with a worry different from the grizzly bear worry.

The Luckies, husband and wife,
of whom you buy oranges, lemons,
grape fruit, avocados, at the roadside, never saw a grizzly.

But they do see great chain stores going direct to the groves buying oranges, selling at retail, cutting prices, cutting off the little middleman.

One well-managed chain store
can do more damage to little people than 10,000 grizzlies.

Three hours after leaving the deserts, its coyotes, lynxes, jack rabbits and lizards, you land in this city, on its way to 2,000,000 population. And all the news of the world shouts at you on the street corners.

Yesterday someone attempted to assassinate Ortiz Rubio, new Mexican president.

He had just concluded his inauguration ceremonies, expressing warm friendship for the United States, urging Mexico's progress, as "a progressive, modern power
through development of natural resources."

It is fortunate for Mexico that the would-be assassin's five shots
went wild.

Wall street sends cheerful news.
Somebody bought 4,000,000 shares
and more, an increase of more than 1,000,000 shares over yesterday.
Prices went higher.

Already the little fish are biting
again.

A local editor in the east, kind enough to print this column in his independent newspaper asks, "Why do you write so much about California?" The answer is "Because I am in California."

There should be no local jeal-ousies in America. From Florida to Washington is interested in California. And California is interested in every one of the 48 states.

The prosperity of every state depends on the prosperity of all the others.

There are about 5,000,000 people in California now, many of them earning money accumulated by hard work. They all buy goods.
Every state in the union has "free trade with California" and California has free trade with every other state.

What would European nations
give for such a condition?

We should appreciate our blessings and thank heaven when we hear good news from any part of America.

Merchant Denies He Will Sell Business

For several days reports have been current in Salem that Solbert Greenberger expected to dispose of The Golden Eagle Clothing & Shoe store on South Broadway and remove to Youngstown to engage in business.

Mr. Greenberger today denied both reports. He said he had made no such plans and could not understand how the reports were started.

Lindbergh Installed Cook At Glider Camp In Mountains

Lindbergh Camp, Cal., Feb. 6.— Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today was installed as camp cook at this glider headquarters, which resembles a cowboy's overnight
line-camp in a mountain cattle Remuda.

Today from a nearby mountain peak, Hawley Borsius, American glider champion,
planned to take off in an effort
to break the world's endurance record for motorless flights by soaring more than 15 hours.
Lindbergh was named by William Van Dusen, official N. A.
observer as his assistant timer
and judge.

The camp was moved farther up the mountain in order to

AUSTRIA-ITALY FORM NEW PACT

Friendship And Arbitration In Treaty Between Nations;
Settles Disputes

Rome, Feb. 6.—A treaty of friendship and arbitration between Italy
and Austria was signed here today.
Premier Benito Mussolini signed on behalf of Italy, while Chancellor Joel Schöberl of Austria signed for his nation.

The treaty marks a new era in the relationship between these two nations, as of recent years there has been considerable friction, particularly over the nationalization policies of Premier Mussolini, which involved the education and language of hundreds of Austrian-born residents of the lower adige, now
Italian territory.

A definite rupture on this issue
occurred two years ago, when diplomatic relations between Austria and Italy were severely strained, and the Austrian parliament was split with dissension over the demands of certain deputies that Austria resist to force to prevent Mussolini from encroaching upon the rights of the Austrian people.

The treaty provides for all future disputes to be submitted to a tribunal for arbitration.

WILLARD BOUND OVER TO JURY

Salem Man Who Drove Truck Which Killed Child Placed Under
$1,000 Bond By Court

Frank Willard, Salem, has been bound over to the Mahoning county grand jury on a charge of manslaughter, resulting from the death of a Canfield girl who died after being struck by a truck operated by Willard.

Willard was released on bond of $1,000. He is alleged to have violated the state law which states that motorists must bring their automobiles to a complete stop on a highway where a school bus is discharging or taking on passengers.

The girl, Lydia Ann Shearsley, had alighted from a Canfield school bus and was crossing the road when she was struck by Willard's truck.

20 SCHOOL BUS DRIVERS GIVEN THOROUGH TEST

Papers Sent To Columbus
For Survey By State
Inspectors

THREE VEHICLES
RULED AS UNFIT

Busses Were Too High In Body; Rocked When
Under Load

Lisbon, Feb. 6.—Fourteen
regular and six substitute
school bus drivers were subjected to an examination in common pleas court No. 2 Wednesday afternoon by William H. Crawford, state motor vehicle inspector.

Fifteen busses carrying school children were rolled into Lisbon shortly after noon Wednesday and were examined personally by Crawford.

All written examinations have been forwarded to the department
at Columbus for approval or rejection.

The body of three busses were found to be high and subject to rocking when loaded.

The Y. & O. Railroad company operating a bus between Lisbon and Salem, and which carries school children twice daily, has been notified to place a sign on the front and rear of the bus during those trips when school children are transported.

County Superintendent of Schools,
H. C. Leonard, Sheriff W. J. Barlow and County Health Commissioner Dr. T. T. Church co-operated in conducting the examination at Lisbon.

Motor vehicle drivers failing to step when approaching a school bus taking on passengers or letting them off, are subjected to a fine of not more than $100 upon conviction. This law was enacted by the last legislature.

An added penalty is 30 days in the county jail.

LIQUOR TRIALS ARE POSTPONED

Mayor Davidson Sets Date
On Ahead; Lawyers
Cannot Appear

Trials of Joe Nocera and James Landro, charged with violation of Salem liquor laws, were postponed indefinitely by Mayor John M. Davidson today. The hearings were originally scheduled for today.

Counsel for the two men was unable to make arrangements to represent them at the trials today, resulting in postponement. Hearings may be held Friday, Mayor Davidson stated.

The case against Alex Fratila, Salem man charged with pointing firearms and assault and battery,
was also postponed and will be held next Monday.

Nocera is charged with possession and transportation of intoxicating liquors. Landro faces charges of possessing implements designed for the manufacture of liquor and possessing liquors.

Nocera is free on bond of $2,000
while Landro is being held in city jail.

The case against John Ford, Salem, was settled by an agreement between the plaintiff, Mrs. Lena Firestone, and representatives of the defendant. Ford was charged with obtaining property through fraud.

ACTRESS LOSES JEWELS IN SUIT

Court Permits Confiscation Of Pola Negri's Gems After Damages Are Filed

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Pola Negri's jewels were seized today under a court order issued here upon the petition of Sam Rachmann, a motion picture actor and manager.

Rachmann claimed that the well-known film star owed him $75,000
for negotiating her American contracts for film appearances. The court allowed his claim and ordered the jewels confiscated in lieu of payment.

Pola and her husband, Prince Mdvani, departed for St. Moritz, minus the actress' jewels and apparently not minding going without them. The couple were recently reconciled after divorce proceedings
had been started in Paris.

Prisoner's Plans Fail to Work

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—Hearings in the best policy.
That is the lesson which had been learned today by J.
L. Smith, 27, Detroit Negro.

Smith was arraigned before Judge Dana F. Reynolds in criminal court here yesterday
on a charge of stealing an automobile. He produced a letter to the court which was the written confession of an other man.

The judge asked deputy sheriffs if the letter had been received at the county jail.
The deputies said "no." Upon examination, it was discovered that Smith had written the letter himself on jail stationery.

"The court sentences you to five years in Ohio penitentiary for stealing the car and a year for lying," Judge Reynolds said to Smith.

WILKINS VESSEL MISSING IN ICE; FEARS ARE FELT

Radio On Survey Ship Is Silent For 8 Days;
Plan Search

New York, Feb. 6.—A curtain
of mystery continues to hide the whereabouts of Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, noted explorer, according to a copyright despatch from the Antarctic in the New York American today.

The despatch, sent today by Victor Hansen, wireless operator on the cruiser Melville, base vessel of the Wilkins expedition at Deception Island, said that the eighth day had passed without word from the explorer, who, with three others, is on the steamship Scoresby somewhere in the vast area of broken ice
south of the party's base.

Efforts to signal the Wilkins' boat by radio have failed and it was believed a break in the radio equipment of the Scoresby was possible.
Hansen held the Scoresby would answer by radio as soon as repairs
to its equipment were made.

If the silence continues, Hansen said
a spare whaler would be sent southward in search of the Scoresby. He added the hunt for the lost explorer would be difficult, as the Melville is without knowledge of the Scoresby's position.

The Scoresby sailed southward
in search of a runway for a takeoff
for the proposed Ross sea flight across the polar cap. When last heard radio signals from the vessel were strong.

BANDIT SUSPECTS ON WAY TO TRIAL

Man, Woman Arrested For Kansas Authorities
Are Returned

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—Under guard of three officers, Garrett L. Petro, alleged perpetrator of a series of mid-west bank robberies, and his reputed wife, Louise, left here today by automobile for Kansas City, Mo., where they are under indictment in connection with the holdup of the Farmers bank of Grandview, Mo.

The couple was arrested here recently in a "Little Hollywood"
apartment at the request of Kansas City authorities. A small arsenal of revolvers and cartridges was found in their rooms.

Extradition papers for the removal of the pair to Missouri were obtained by the Kansas City police from Governor Myers J. Cooper yesterday.

George W. Armstrong of Follinsbee, W. Va., father of the woman, came here yesterday to see his daughter.
He declared his belief in her innocence. Papers in her possession showed that the woman had married Petro less than a month before they were arrested here.

Salem Church Plans Services In April

Easter.

Rev. Gaines M. Cook, of Cleveland, will be the evangelist. Plans

a meeting of the official board
Tuesday evening.

A meeting of the evangelistic committee will be held tonight after the prayer service.

Worker Died Trying To Save Other Life

Alliance, O., Feb. 6.—That Clyde
L. Bosley died a hero, trying to save a companion, was the finding returned by Stark County Coroner T.
C. McQuate Wednesday, in his investigation of the overturning of a crane at the American Steel Foundries, which claimed two lives.

Bosley and Dominic Margson, the man he tried to rescue, died Tuesday of burns received when scalded
by steam from a broken pipe.

ANGLO-AMERICAN
CLAIMS DELEGATE

America Leads Nations In Under-Sea Equipment;
Discussions

London, Feb. 6.—The first tangible signs of friction between the various delegations to the five-power naval disarmament conference here flared up in unexpected form today.

Meeting members of the press
half an hour later than usual, a spokesman for the British delegation manifested very evident annoyance over the alleged French attempt to claim credit for recent suggestions aimed at "humanizing"
submarine warfare.

He declared emphatically that this idea was definitely of Anglo-American origin.

The spokesman's delay in meeting press representatives is believed to have been due to a conference with his colleagues as to how best to rebut the alleged French claims to credit for the party's present general attitude toward submarines.

He launched into the subject immediately, with quite evident traces of annoyance. He declared that at yesterday's meeting, the American and British delegates brought forth
a number of suggestions for incorporation into the London disarmament treaty provisions regulating the use of submarines in war time.

The Washington conference adopted the Root resolution regulating submarine warfare, and all five delegations signed it, but France alone failed to ratify the proposal officially.

Nevertheless, according to the British spokesman, Premier Andre Tardieu of France, in an interview with the French press last evening, allowed it to be understood that he intended to bring before the con-

SALEM RESIDENT TO SERVE TERM

Clifford Hess Sentenced
To Atlanta For Part
In Bond Theft

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—Following his plea of guilty to a charge of having fraudulently obtained $1,300 in Liberty bonds from George W. Em-mons of Hanoverton, O., Clifford Hess of Salem, O., was fined $2,000 and sentenced to serve 30 months in prison by Federal Judge Samuel West here today.

It was alleged that Hess, with another man who has fled to Mexico, operated the Realty Building Co., in Canton, O., as a blind for their fraudulent bond racket. The scheme employed by the two was to sell or trade bogus bonds to farmers throughout eastern Ohio.

Approaching Emmons as he worked in his fields, it was said, Hess failed to complete a sale but went to the farmer's home and told Em-mons' wife everything had been arranged, thus obtaining the Liberty bonds from her. The bonds, representing Emmons' life savings, were cashied by Hess before Emmons could report the fraud to authorities.

Germans Laud New U. S. Ambassador

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Federic Mose-ley Sackett, new United States ambassador to Berlin, regaled representatives of the German press today with a jocular description of his home state, Kentucky.

"I come from Kentucky," he said, "which of course is famous throughout the world for its races, its pretty girls, its good tobacco and formerly, of course, its fine whiskey—all things which bring joy to the hearts of men."

German newspapers are unanimous in their praise of President Hoover's selection of ex-Senator Sackett as American envoy here. His many visits to Germany and his close contact with the German people, it is pointed out, render him a most happy choice for the post.

Repairs Completed

Lisbon, Feb. 6.—Repairs have been completed on the iron bridge spanning Beaver creek on the Calcutta-Smith's Ferry road, and the structure is now open to traffic.

The bridge was repaired by Colum-biana county by placing new stringers and a new floor. It has been closed to traffic during the day
since last Monday morning.

Lisbon, Feb. 6.—A mental clinic was conducted in the office of Probate Judge Lodge Riddle Wednesday, when 10 children from different parts of the county were examined by M. N. Brown, of the State Department of Juvenile Research, Columbus. A similar clinic will be held at the same place the first Wednesday in each month hereafter.

Hunger Striker In 23rd Day of Fast

WATSON, O., Feb. 6.—Unflin-ging in spirit but considerably weakened in body, Richard Stewart, Warren rug merchant, defiantly began the 23rd day of his "hunger strike" in the Trumbull county jail here today.

Stewart, who is serving out a fine of $200 and costs following his conviction on charges of molesting a woman,
has imposed the fast on himself as a form of protest to Police Judge C. B. Perry for his incarceration.

"I'm feeling fine and may go 30 days more," Stewart told Sheriff J. C. Risher this morning when the latter attempted to persuade the prisoner to eat. Risher stated that he will summon a physician within a few days if Stewart persists in starving.

TAFT SHOWING IMPROVEMENT AFTER RETURN

Former Chief Justice In Better Spirits; Visited
By the Hoovers

Washington, Feb. 6.—William Howard Taft appeared today to be responding to the mental relief of being back in his own home, and of being without the care of official duty for the first time in many years.

It was in the hope the former president would rally from his present dangerous physical relapse that his doctors arbitrarily ordered him to resign as chief justice of the United States and brought him back to Washington from a 3-week sojourn in Asheville, N. C. Their official bulletins in the last 24 hours
seem to have justified their action, for according to those bulletins, he gained a little ground soon after being returned to his Wyoming exclusive residence and has held it ever since.

In any event, the original tension has lessened. The physicians do not hold out much hope for an ultimate complete recovery, for their 72-year-old patient is suffering from arterio-sclerosis, complicated by a bladder infection, but the half-voiced fears of Tuesday that Taft was in the midst of a probably fatal crisis were less noticeable today.

President and Mrs. Hoover found their friend "sitting up and cheerful" when they called yesterday afternoon. The last medical bulletin issued verified the statement he was suffering virtually no pain and had been able to get some solid rest.

BETTMAN RULES ON AUTOMOBILES

All Bills Of Sale Must Be Present At Sale
After Failure

Lisbon, Feb. 16.—Hereafter when an automobile is repossessed by a mortgage company, all prior bills of sale will have to accompany the car
when it is taken.

This ruling has been handed down
by Attorney General Gilbert Bett-man to Clerk of Courts John A.
Noble.

It has been determined by this ruling that hereafter when a mortgagee repossesses a motor vehicle,
after the terms of the mortgage have been broken, the mortgagee cannot legally give a bill of sale for that particular motor vehicle unless such bill of sale is attached to other bills of sale executed in the sale of the car.

When it is not possible to obtain all such original bills of sale, then certified copies of such bills of sale must first be obtained from the Clerk of Courts before a new bill of sale can be filed for record.

Perry Lodge Plans Annual Inspection

Plans were made for the annual inspection on Feb. 19 at a meeting of Perry Lodge No. 185, F. & A. M., Wednesday evening at Masonic temple.

The inspection will be conducted by Frank M. Justice, of Youngstown, district lecturer of the 24th
Masonic district.

The lodge will hold a special meeting next Wednesday evening.

Suit Up Again

Lisbon, Feb. 6.—The $5,000 damage case filed in common pleas court Sept. 18, 1924, against the city of East Palestine by Enoch Fowler will probably get to a jury this afternoon. This case was first tried to a jury and before Judge Craven in June 1925 when there was a disagreement.

CHIEF JUSTICE HUGHES

President Hoover could have made no more propitious selection of William H. Taft's successor as chief justice of the United States supreme court than Charles Evans Hughes. A former associate justice of the supreme court, an eminent lawyer in private practice, an invaluable international statesman, a particular defender of the Monroe Doctrine, and a personality regarded with high public favor, Mr. Hughes will enjoy to the same degree the confidence and admiration displayed for Mr. Taft. The nation's sadness at the ill health which has forced the retirement of the latter is mitigated by its joy in having another equally great citizen to head its legal system.

The highest traditions of the supreme court are upheld by Mr. Hoover's selection of one whose public service has been of such a distinguished nature. The office of chief justice is open only to men of the highest legal ability, a fact which restricts its potential holders to a very select group. Mr. Hughes, as reflected in the generous acclaim with which his appointment is hailed, stands at the head of this group.

His wide experience in international diplomacy as a justice of the Hague arbitration court and as chief figure in the Washington conference has broadened his perspective to a degree commensurate with that of the widely-traveled Mr. Hoover. These two dignitaries, holding the highest offices in the nation, should have a growing tonic effect on public opinion.

The retiring chief justice and his successor are men of the same type. Both are holders of the middle course, perhaps more conservative than liberal, but never reactionary in the ordinary meaning of the term. Chief Justice Hughes starts on the tasks reluctantly relinquished by Chief Justice Taft with the good will of his countrymen solidly behind him.

SQUELCHING REPORTS

The issue of publicity for air accident reports has been brought to public attention again by Senator Bingham, who asks that the findings of the Department of Commerce in accident investigations be made known. It is not likely that Mr. Bingham will be more successful than he has been previously, but his action reopens an extremely delicate question.

Both parties, the curious public and the Department of Commerce are striving to accomplish the same ends: to discover what caused the accident, to prevent its recurrence and to forestall any unwarranted loss of confidence by the public. Under the present system, the department's investigators assume the role of technical collaborators with the private officials. Aware that their findings are not to be made public, all parties concerned are free to tell what they actually know, especially since they are not under oath and their statements will not be used against them. Were the reports to be published, the Department of Commerce would exchange the role of investigator for that of prosecutor and the objective determination of facts would be at once clouded under all the red tape that characterizes the judicial process. Thus, there is little doubt that the present method works better as far as ascertaining the cause of the accident is concerned.

Sound knowledge of what happened is the first requisite in preventing a recurrence. Opponents of the Department of Commerce system charge, however, that such regulation is not enough; that fear of punishment is necessary to hold negligent managers responsible. They suspect teamwork between the airplane interests and the inspectors. As far as public confidence is concerned, secrecy is probably the best method. Depending on the belief that "what you don't know doesn't hurt you," it seems likely that general knowledge and discussion of the details of airplane accidents would tend to exaggerate their importance and undermine public faith in air travel. Nevertheless, it does seem that there has been undue secrecy shrouding some recent accidents—secrecy which in itself causes suspicion. If the attitude should be carried to extremes, it may be necessary to call out the unwieldy apparatus of legal inquiry to put the procedure on a better basis.

Virginia ministers have asked their conference for permission to smoke. They must be planning to attend some of the meetings of the Ladies Aid society.

It is fortunate for the popularity of the naval conference that the football season has left the radio open for other material.

What Others Say

THE NEW ROUTE TO SUCCESS
One hesitates to believe that some headless leader has been spoofing Dr. C. G. Starnitz, of Omaha, president-elect of the Medical Women's National association. Yet the eminent lady doctor is busy assuring her ambitious sisters that the best executives, during the intervals when they are not in conference or attending luncheons, achieve their high degree of success by tilting back in their swivel chairs and sitting at ease with their feet on their desks.

Relaxation is the new watchword. According to a certain way of thinking, it is well to avoid even the appearance of engaging in exhausting labor. The theory seems to be that as Tennyson so happily expressed it, the proper method of getting things done is to "set the feet above the head and swear the brains are in the feet."

It is a wise provision, perhaps, that old habits and beliefs should have their day and cease to be. Change, one may say, always means progress, at least in some direction. Nothing is to be gained by a slavish devotion to ancient prejudices. The odd idea that old men have gray beards, together with a plentiful lack of wit, no longer prevails. The absurdity of that notion was demonstrated even in Hamlet's day. "The prone brow, oppressive with its mind" is no longer the symbol of mental concentration. It has given place to a pair of those sides in lofty contemplation of the ideal system. The leader of a great movement is no longer the man of destiny on horseback. He leads the charge by microphone and gets his equestrian exercise on the mechanical steed in the garret.

And yet there may be a catch somewhere in this new theory about relaxation as the royal road to success. Tired, but witty, business men have tried to persuade trusting women that the attitude of fishing or sitting in at a session of poker is restful and restorative. The fallacy of this claim was demonstrated long ago. Somebody ought to tell Dr. Starnitz about it.—Chicago News.

The Stars Say

For Friday, February 7.—Extremely lively and interesting events are read from the excellent, if unimaging, planetary auguries. All things will move at a rapid pace, despite small obstacles and a certain menace from fraud or treachery, of which be cautious.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a particularly lively and progressive year in spite of minor setbacks and certain menaces of fraud, deception or intrigue. They should be on guard against subtlety. A child born on this day should be energetic, versatile and may possibly have unique talents or skill. It may be won by strategy or collusion.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

BUILD STRONG LUNGS

There is a story about a young girl that I want to tell you. Between the years of three and eight, this girl had pneumonia five times. It hardly seems true that this could have been, and yet, she did and the girl is very much alive today.

The secret of it is that she has good sense, and a good will to live and do!

During her first years of school, she had to fight constantly to keep in health. Her lungs were very weak, she took cold at the slightest exposure. She had to be extremely careful every time she went out of doors in the cold. She was weak and had little appetite for food.

Her doctor mapped out some health rules for her. With the help of her mother and family, she went to work with a will, to fight for good health. Her doctor wanted her to live in the country, but this was impossible. But even in the city she found plenty of fresh air and sunshine. She remained out-of-doors a great deal. Plenty of fresh air and sunshine was what the doctor said she must have. He gave her cod liver oil, Raw eggs and milk every day—these had to be taken, too.

Six months after beginning this program she ate like a normal person. Plenty of rest and sunlight and sleeping with all her windows open at night built up her resistance to disease. Walking all that she was able soon brought back a normal appetite.

For five years she tried every health rule her doctor proposed, and as a consequence, she made herself into a different person. Well-nourished, with a good color and a marvelous buoyant feeling, she could go out into the coldest weather and not feel it. She never has a cold. Her lungs are strong once more, and she has determined never to have pneumonia again.

No one of us can afford to neglect the best of care of the health. We cannot afford to be careless and let our good sense run away when it comes to keeping well.

If you have weak lungs, or if you feel your resistance is low, if you take cold easily and are generally below par, then follow some good health rules similar to these. Talk with your doctor and get his advice before some disease attacks you. Good food, fresh air, sunshine, bodily exercise daily, good refreshing sleep, will enable Nature to do her good work and effect a cure.

"Hot Boxes" Now Rarity On Trains

Boston, Jan. 31.—The "hot box" is a term that might be applied to the man who, when you are peacefully slumbering in your lower berth on the night train, comes creeping alongside with a torch in his hand, flashes a piercing light in your eyes and screams in your ear, claiming success to his fellow torturers down at the end of the train.

that he has found a "hot box" right under your feather bed.

"Hot box" is the railroad term for the mechanical trouble which has caused the principal annoyance to railroaders both in freight and passenger trains. It is caused by a poor mechanical condition and improper packing, the first destroying the lubrication and the latter failing to furnish oil to properly run the bearings.

A few years back it was quite a common occurrence for a train to stop on account of a "hot box" but now engineers have perfected these flaming bugaboo of the railroad men, so that rarely one is experienced in transit.

According to an announcement by the Boston & Maine railroad, "hot box" now occurs only once in 21 years or what would be a train movement of a distance equal to nine times around the world. According to statistics the service in regard to this particular delay has improved in the last five years over 400 per cent, owing to a new system of inspection and operation.

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort to the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

RAPS NEW PLANS FOR ENFORCEMENT

"Bigoted Will Not Offer
Real Solution To Wet
Problems"

Washington, Feb. 6.—Assailing the report of President Hoover's law enforcement commission as "exceedingly disappointing," Senator Wagner (D., N. Y.), today challenged the president to carry out his campaign pledge to remedy "grave abuses" in prohibition.

Wagner, a former member of New York's supreme court, declared the commission had proceeded on the "wrong track" by attempting to "cure prohibition without looking to any change in the law." He insisted the president had promised to remedy "grave abuses" and declared the nation expected some action to curb "the killing and maiming of our citizens by armed enforcement officials," alleged violations of the "rights of the homes and what Mr. Justice Holmes called the 'dry business of wire tapping'."

"Created Abysmal Confusion"
The prohibition law, he said, had created "abysmal confusion" and "mental chaos" in the "very highest places." Instead of really trying to remedy the situation, he added, the "mountains labored and brought forth a mouse—and a very tiny one at that."

The president's proposal for transferring magistrate powers on U. S. commissioners was described as unconstitutional by Wagner. In all he had ten objections to this legislation.

He charged the bill would violate the "due process of law" guarantee of the constitution and would create minor courts "under a fiction," which were themselves unconstitutional.

Violation of Constitution
He also argued that the fact a district attorney may determine under the bill whether to try an accused for a misdemeanor or for a felony was a further violation of the constitution.

"Away with the old-fashioned concept that crimes should be definitely defined by statute," said Wagner. "If you enact this proposed law, you erect a new class of crimes undefined, of uncertain gravity, of unknown penalty, until such good time in each individual case as the district attorney decides. This is not justice in a government of laws; this is government by men in the most objectionable sense of the term."

Wagner urged a "new deal" in handling the prohibition problem. He declared the commission should now launch the inquiry proposed by the president in the last campaign.

"The solution of this problem will not come from those bogged in their old ways," he added. "A new liberation must be formulated and fostered by those who acknowledge the evils of the old system, refuse to go back and recognizing the evils of the present system, insist on going forward."

CHICAGO NEARS FINANCE CRISIS

Arrangement To Pay Men Employed Would Be But Temporary

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Chicago's ever-deepening financial trouble grew more involved today when it was indicated that Mayor William Hale Thompson plans to defy the city council's request to adopt the plan whereby 40,000 unpaid employees hoped to obtain emergency relief.

City and county workers have gone without their pay checks for five weeks.

Added to this was the discouraging prediction of City Comptroller George K. Schmidt who stated that even if buyers are found for 1930 tax anticipation warrants through the Strawn rescue committee, the city will face another serious financial crisis July 1 when, he said, all revenue for 1930 will have been exhausted.

Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson is said to oppose the Strawn group's stipulation that only payrolls and departments regarded as "essential" by the committee will be given a helping hand from the $50,000,000 fund pledged by large business houses.

KIDNAPED MAN RETURNS HOME

Captives Badly Beat Man While He Was Held; Ransom Not Paid In Relief Of Victim

New York, Feb. 6.—Max Price, New Haven real estate broker, who was kidnaped nine days ago by New York and Detroit gangsters for a huge ransom, was found wandering about at Fairfield, a suburb of Bridgeport, Conn., early today. He had been beaten and both his eyes were blacked and his face bruised.

Taken before police in Bridgeport, Price said he had been beaten for four days by his kidnapers in a swamp house in New Haven.

Last night he said he was led from the house, taken for a three automobile ride and was told to get back to New Haven at best he could.

Price said he did not think any of the ransom demanded for his release had been paid. The elderly victim said he thought he was released because of the publicity given his abduction and that his captives feared police were about to arrest them.

It was in Advance, where Police Capt. Harry Givens of Alliance, Deputy Sheriff George A. Dally, Assistant Prosecutor Donald Bennett and Fred Mayne, court stenographer, went to Columbus to interview Hamilton. Sensible Way To Lose Fat

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys, and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten had existed.

As a result instead of planting yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and needed to do to keep you in good condition.

Then watch the pounds slide off! Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning—they're tasteless that way, and if they don't change your whole idea about reducing, go back and get the small price you paid for them. Get an $5 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at The J. H. Lease Drug Co., Fleming's drug store, Bolger & French's or any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.

London, Feb. 6.—With question of abolition of submarines now in the foreground at the London naval conference, it was pointed out here that there are today more than 400 submarines—built, building and appropriated for—in the navies of the five powers attending the conference, according to figures compiled by the United States bureau of naval intelligence.

American Submarines

The American total of 113 submarines includes 31 which are practically obsolete and listed for disposal. Great Britain has 69, Japan 70, France 90 and Italy 60.

British submarines range in size from 443 to 2323 tons displacement. Only 14 of the British total displace less than 600 tons each.

American submarines range in size from 480 tons to 2733 tons, more than half of the total being under 600 tons. Some of the larger American undersea vessels have cruising radii ranging up to 10,000 miles.

Japan's submarines are all larger than 600 tons. Several are reported to be capable of cruising for 10,000 miles without refueling—capable, in other words, of crossing the Pacific and returning to their home bases without difficulty.

French submarines displace from 342 to 3,233 tons each, the latter being the tonnage of the recently launched "Surcouf," the world's largest undersea craft. Almost 70 of her submarines are larger than 600 tons. Even the smallest has an estimated radius of action, on the surface, of 1,303 miles.

Police Hold Woman In Robbery Cases

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—A 42-year-old woman, Mrs. Hallie Lopez, is held by police here today while Detectives are checking her story in an effort to link her with a number of grocery store robberies.

Though she stoutly denies all charges of implication in any robbery, detectives believe they have sufficient evidence to link her with at least four hold-ups of recent dates.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Feb. 6.—"Muff it" is one of Madame's mottoes for the winter with little finger-toppers appearing in all shapes and sizes.

Whether it is the famous French Abbey's propensity for a long, bird's nest, or just the natural course of whimsical fashion that brought them back, no one quite knows. At any rate, new coats with their secure closings, which were quite out of the question, when mantles had to be held together by frozen fingers.

And perhaps there is some coquetry in the bargain, for every woman knows that keeping the hands warm in a muff is bound to make them more beautiful, and what woman does not want beautiful hands?

The muff of the season is a tiny affair, a soft bit of fur rolled up like a big cozy cat. Only the barrel shapes have appeared so far and the large furriers are not promising any other ones. It is even small enough to make the cuff of a fur coat when it is very often done and thus there is no danger of losing it.

A dear little muff of diminutive proportions is of the same gray, but as the border of a charming skating model of pale green jersey tweed. Muffs by the way, are quite the fashion for skating this winter and always match the little hats or turbans.

One furrier is showing charming little cubist muffs of mixtures of fur cut into all shapes and put together in heterogeneous fashion. There is an amusing one in black and white, half and half—red and white fur and there is another in sable combined with seal.

Design 1802 may be made of flowered cretonne, gingham, percale or rayon. Colorful patterns on light appearance. This model opens out flat in order to make laundering easy.

Mr. Pearl Steedly of 408 N. State st., Kendallville, Ind., writes: "I am more than pleased with TAN-A-WA Tonic. It has done for me. My stomach has been keeping me from my work and nothing I ate did me any good. I could not rest at night as my nerves were affected. I was losing weight and always worn out. I started taking TAN-A-WA Tonic and was surprised in just a few days. I can now eat anything I want and I feel like a different man and will never fail to give TAN-A-WA tonic a good word. TAN-A-WA tonic acts promptly on sluggish bowels, lazy liver and weak kidneys. It purifies the blood, clears the skin, restores the appetite and brings new strength to the whole body."

Ocenasek wants to construct a rocket capable of carrying nine persons with which and whom he hopes to make the trip to the moon in 87 hours.

The first attempt, he says, is to be made this spring.

The craft is to be equipped with six individual rockets which will hurl it through space by being shot off one after the other. Three rockets are to shoot it to the moon and the other three back again to the earth.

At the approach of one or the other planets, the terrific speed of the craft is to be checked by a brake rocket to make possible an easy and safe landing.

Ocenasek says he wants to take nine persons on this trip. He and his son will be the first two; the other seven places are now open for booking. Two prospective passengers have already booked passage. One is Herr Max Deutscher, of Olmutz, and the other is a student from Pressburg whose name is not given.

Ocenasek's plans for his craft are based on the principle of Professor Hermann Oberth, who wanted to construct, as a first step toward interplanetary travel, a mail rocket that would cover the distance between Europe and America in one hour.

This project was to be financed by the Ufa, the biggest German movie concern, which at the time was showing a movie entitled "The Woman in the Moon," in which a rocket trip to the moon played the biggest part.

Later, however, financial difficulties developed. Professor Oberth suffered a nervous breakdown and the project was abandoned.

With an increase in the red-blood-cells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S.S.S. a trial. It promotes healthy body building. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. It is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and is easy to assimilate. Pleasant to take. Thousands of users have testified to its benefits in unsolicited letters of gratitude.

Accidents Claims Lives Of Fifteen Persons Daily

Columbus, Feb. 6.—Fifteen persons died accidentally every day last year, an increase of nearly 20 per cent.

For every 518 automobiles, one person was killed by automobiles. Half as many people were killed in ordinary falls, most of them down stairs or elsewhere in the home.

Out of an increase of about 4,300 total deaths from all causes, the increase in automobile fatalities ranked as fourth cause, being exceeded only by influenza, heart disease and whooping cough.

These are the highlights of the preliminary report of 1925 accidental deaths in Ohio, made by President L. B. Palmer of the Ohio State Safety Council, by I. C. Plummer, chief of the division of vital statistics, at the request of council for the purpose of aiding in shaping the organization's 1926 plans for a continuous campaign to reduce the toll of accidental injury and death. Plummer's report showed that one death out of every 14 was accidental. One out of every nine accidental deaths occurred at a railroad; one out of every six was caused by a fall and one out of every three involved an automobile.

Automobiles killed two-thirds as many people as did heart disease. Palmer estimated approximately 1,950 automobile fatalities for 1925. Twenty-nine per cent of these happened in townships and villages; 41 per cent in cities and the remainder in the open country. Beheaded 75 and 89 per cent were pedestrian fatalities.

Of the other than pedestrian accidents, twice as many fatalities were caused by cars running off the road and into ditches and fixed objects as by collisions with automobiles.

There is some cheer to be found, however, Palmer said, in the fact that while it took only 412 automobiles to kill one person in 1916, there is now only one death to every 948 cars. Fatalities at steam railroad crossings decreased 30 per cent, while those involving street cars and interurbans increased 30 per cent.

Fred H. Caley, chairman of the traffic committee of the Ohio State Safety Council, declared that the constantly rising rate of automobile accidents made it imperative that unfit drivers be eliminated by means of an adequate drivers' license law. Caley's committee is now at work drafting a bill for such a law, to be presented at the next session of the legislature with the united backing of the 21 state-wide organizations constituting the membership of the Ohio State Safety Council.

Astronomical Clock Is Ordered Restored

Muenster, Feb. 6.—The astronomical clock in the choir of Muenster's ancient cathedral, of whose mechanism only a part has been in operation for a century, is to be completely restored for the German Economic Congress at the end of next August.

This clock, one of the most remarkable masterpieces of its kind in the world, was constructed in the years 1549 to 1553 to take the place of one destroyed by the Anabaptists.

It originally set in motion an orrery with sun, moon, and five planets; the fixed stars, with the signs of the zodiac; two pillars with astrological data; and a calendar. It struck the quarter and full hours, and set in motion at noon the adoration of the Magi before Mary and the Christ Child with the star of Bethlehem going before the Magi, and a set of figures playing a Christmas air.

Newfoundland to Scotland

"Neptune," 126-ton Newfoundland coasting schooner, as it rested peacefully in Tobemory Bay on the west coast of Scotland, several thousand miles from home and its original destination. Leaving St. John's, Newfoundland, with Seaman Stampers and his wife, for a mere 100-mile run along the coast of Scotland, the ship encountered gales which so swept it from its course that it was obliged to spend 47 days battling with the Atlantic before it was finally saved from a tragic fate by the lighthouse steamer Hesperus.

Historic Mill Is Doomed To Decay

Connellsville, Pa., Feb. 6.—An old mill in Perryopolis, near here, which once belonged to George Washington, seems doomed to fall into further disrepair and crumble into dust, following the announcement that the campaign started last year to rebuild the mill has been abandoned.

The campaign, with $10,000 as its goal was started last July, through the efforts of a millers' trade publication with Howard Adam, cashier of a Perryopolis bank taking an active part as the treasurer of the fund.

Adams returned some $1,200 to the donors recently after the time limit had expired. No word came from the original sponsors, it was announced and the campaign had to be dropped.

Public spirited residents of the district have expressed regret that the old mill, reminiscent of the days when the first president was a business man of the first water in the old colonial days should be allowed to fall into decay and ruin.

DAMASCUS

The second number of the lecture course was given in the high school auditorium Saturday evening by Henry and Company who gave a diversified program of spectacular magic, rare illusions, sand paintings and original drawings. A Few Cents For Good Light makes better report cards

EVENING study at its best is hard for children. They become tired and drowsy when they must strain their eyes in light that is dim or glaring. Children who suffer from eyestrain are retarded in school.

When good eyes mean so much and good light is so cheap why try to economize? A few cents an evening will pay for all you use.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW* By refraining from over-indulgence

Men who would keep that trim, proper figure, women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—Be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain that lithe, youthful figure.

"SO THIS IS COLLEGE"
At The Grand
From musical comedy to college drama is the gamut of the versatile Chet (Ukelele Ike) Edwards, vaudeville and musical show entertainer, who plays his latest fun-making role in "So This Is College," all talking campus romance.
Edwards plays the "college cut-up" in the new picture, and, with his trusty ukulele and his comical songs, produces many a laugh.
"So This Is College," is a lighthearted romance of the younger generation, laid in a big American university.
Its heroine is Sally Starr, Robert Montgomery, and Elliott Nugent, well-known stage juveniles, Phyllis Crane, Max Davidson, character comedian, and others of note are among the players.

"RIO RITA"
At The State
"Rio Rita" has definitely "hit" here. Already scores of fans are making second visits to the State to hear again the dozen or more tuneful musical numbers of this most famous Ziegfeld show, transferred in all its color and splendor to the screen.
John Boles appears opposite Bebe in "Rio Rita" and his tenor adds much to the glamor of the score. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey play the comedy roles they created in the original stage production. Dorothy Lee, whose piquant "baby talk" singing was responsible for a large measure of the success of "Symphonette" adds them in their antics.
Don Alvarado, Helen Kaler, former "Follies" girl, Georges Renavant, and Nick de Ruiz, first tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company are others in the cast of 100.

City Life Called Hard On Children

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 6.—City life is hard on children.
In the United States this year $60,000,000 will be spent to maintain institutions for mental and nervous disorders brought about in childhood and such disorders cause an annual economic loss of $200,000,000.

These statements were presented by Dr. Sydney Kinnear Smith, lecturer in mental hygiene and psychiatrist at the University of California and chief psychiatrist at the Alameda county juvenile court.

They were given in connection with the announcement of a special course in child guidance for the University of California extension division.

Dr. Smith points to the fact that in colonial days 90 per cent of the population lived on farms. Today all but 24 per cent are urban dwellers.

The possibilities of a tedious environment are increased a hundred-fold," he said, "by this shift in population.
These possibilities of a manifold nature but it is possible to see the chances of danger in want of activity improperly supervised, in too frequent attendance at the movies and in increased opportunities for spending money."

European of Future To Learn from U. S.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Europe must learn from America what America learned from Europe—individualism, realism and activity, said the European of the future must be partly American in spirit, but up to a certain point only according to Prof. Dr. Willy Hellpach, former Premier of Baden.
"The European man of tomorrow," declares Professor Hellpach, "will be an individual of the masses, such as the individual of the thirteenth century."
"He must retain the problematic, tragic and romantic features of the European character, so long as they are of irreplaceable value, but he must be able to conform to the demands of our time."
"He shall not be an American in spirit, but he will also not remain the old, weak European. Individualism, realism, activism—gifts which America received from us—must be developed by us in the future even more strongly."

Called to Establish New Ministry for Spain

General Damaso Berenguer, long the arch enemy of General Primo de Rivera, has been appointed by King Alfonso of Spain to form a new ministry, following the resignation of De Rivera as Premier.
Rivera, a brilliant military officer and politician had controlled Spain with an iron hand for more than six years. Gen. Berenguer said he intended to appoint civilian ministers to all portfolios but those of war and marine.

Watchman Protects Ohio School Busses

Ten Basketball Games Slated For Salem Gyms In Three Days

High School's Games Here Attract Major Portion Of Interest

Red and Black Tossers Play At Home Friday And Saturday; Two Class A, One Class B Battle Billed Tonight; Saxons Play Saturday

An attractive array of basketball entertainment will be handed Salem fans on three consecutive evenings, starting tonight. A total of ten games, at least eight of them of vital importance in their respective classifications, are scheduled on local courts during the closing days of the week.

Five of the games involved Salem High passers while three others will be played in city basketball leagues. The high school games will all be played at the school gym Friday and Saturday nights while city league games are billed at Memorial gym tonight.

The remaining two games will be played at the Memorial building Saturday night and will feature a Penn-Ohio German league fracas between Salem and Alliance.

The high school games occupy the major share of fandom's interest in that tomorrow night the Red and Black teams play their third

Columbiana county contests. Lisbon High, victor over East Palestine, a combine which Salem defeated by only a two-point margin, is the invader. Saturday night Warren High boys and girls varsities meet Salem representatives in feature engagements while Salem reserves oppose East Liverpool High scrubs in the evening's preliminary.

Grates Meet Champs
The one really big important game on the city league menu for tomorrow night brings the Grate Motors' new team in a clash with the first half championship Golden Eagles. This game will follow a preliminary between the Trinity Lutherans and Fender Benders, Class B contestants and will precede the finale between the Prints Klub and United Cigars.

Members of the Art Jewelers' team, victims of the Grates in the latter team's inaugural contest last week, insist that the motors have the loop's toughest combination now. The Arts, though, haven't been able to present their usual strong lineup since Pifer Harsh left their ranks for the United Cigars and were weaker than at any time during the season in the clash with the Motors.

The game will really determine the exact strength of the new entry, and despite the fact that Solbert Greenberger's hirelings are heavy favorites to take the decision, a stiff battle is looked for by followers of both teams.

Cigars Should Win
The Cigars should nose out the Prints Klub in the second game and advance to a 360 rating in the loop, having lost their first game to the Golden Eagle. It will be the Klubmen's third game of the half and they have yet to annex a victory.

For those interested in the preliminary, tomorrow night it might be well to explain that the Class B contest is far from an unimportant event. The Fender Benders, composed mostly of high school underclassmen, have a tight hold on top honors in the league with two straight wins but the Lutherans, by winning the game, can pass them for pace-making laurels. The Trinity church aggregation has won five games and lost two.

The fact that both Lisbon teams won easy verdicts over Palestine High representatives gives the scholastic contests to be played here Friday night, an important county title aspect. The Lisbon ladies, especially, are strong and a victory is anticipated for them when they clash with Coach Anne Oelschlaeger's sextet. Wellsville's victory over Salem maidens was trimmed by the county seat amazons, 18-14. Wellsville boys, an easy victim of Floyd Stone's team, trounced the Lisbonites, 22-7.

Salem Saxons will be aiming for their sixth consecutive Penn-Ohio German league win when they oppose the Alliance Saxons, at Memorial gym Saturday and are expected to register it for Alliance dropped a 35-33 decision to the Quaker City lads in a game played at Alliance. The Emmanuel Lutheran Cadets will play in the preliminary.

NEW WATERFORD
Revival services are being held at the Bible Christian church in charge of F. K. Hazerty of the East Palestine Gospel Mission.

The pupils of the Friends' school had three days vacation last week as their teacher was confined at home with a severe cold. School opened as usual this week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Cope were hosts to a group of friends on Sunday afternoon when Mrs. Jeannette W. Emrich of New York City told of the reception, in Mexico last year, of the 36,000 friendship school bags that were sent by the children of the United States and were distributed to every primary school in Mexico. The children of the Friends' school sent two bags and have just this week received a letter telling of the arrival of the last one. Mrs. Emrich also told the boys about the treasure chest that goes to the Philippine children this year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Edgerton and son, James, were guests of relatives at Damascus on Sunday.

"Wonderful Is Konjola," Says Grateful Man

Severe Case of Long Standing Benefited in Few Weeks By Modern Medicine

MR. HARRY C. STEWART

"Wonderful is Konjola, the first medicine, after five years of suffering, that brought me relief from many ills," says Mr. Harry C. Stewart, 1415 Wheeler Street, Covington, Ky. "I could not eat a meal without distress afterward. Foods fermented and formed gas. I was subject to mothering spells. Kidney trouble caused pains across my back and disturbed my rest. Then catarrh developed and I surely felt miserable."

"I decided to try Konjola after it was sincerely recommended by a friend. Today, after a brief treatment, I would not take a thousand dollars for the relief Konjola has brought me. I eat, sleep and feel better than in five years. Pains and misery are gone. In every way I have benefited and I owe everything to Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Salem, at all J. H. Lease drug stores, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, Feb. 6.—Furs are furnishing Madame with the long, narrow lines and floating fullness at the back just as much as fluid crepes and satins ever did. For they have become so flexible and supple that the dressmaker and furrier are treating them like any other fine material. They can be tailored, gathered, pleated or ruffled according to the design.

Minx, sable and chinchilla remain paramount for the most exquisite models. Grey squirrel is beautiful for those who look well in grey. Beige squirrel with a cocoa-fox collar is most becoming. White ermine and white fox are the thing for evening.

One house, famous for fine furs is showing a new coat-dress of white-pony, made up in two ways. It is trimmed with a rather bright brown Persian lamb or with dark brown pony. Collar, cuffs and the side-front godets are of the brown fur and the coat which is belted tightly at the highest waistline, has a little muff and two hats, one of the white pony and another of the brown fur.

Charming white cloth and velvet skating-suits come with white fur trimmings and one entirely made of delicate white fur comes in a full-length coat in princess effect with flaring side panels and the front skirt falling straight and plain. This model also appears in white satin trimmed with dyed table, flying squirrel at the neck, on the flowing sleeves and on the wide side panels of the skirt.

Ermine wraps, coats and capes are being repeated in the unusual broadtail which also makes many smart tailor-mades. A short coat of ermine has an ermine beret which is most youthful and becoming. The richest of white furs are trimmed with Russian sable or silver fox.

The small muff is a saucy accompaniment to many grey Persian lamb coats which are of the softest possible pelts. This fur is also being made up in sets with coat, cap and muff alike.

Two-coat dresses as practical as they are pretty, are finding favor in Paris winter collections destined for southern wear. Three different materials sometimes go to make this outfit, invaluable for tea and restaurant wear and yet dressy enough to be felt on for many evening occasions.

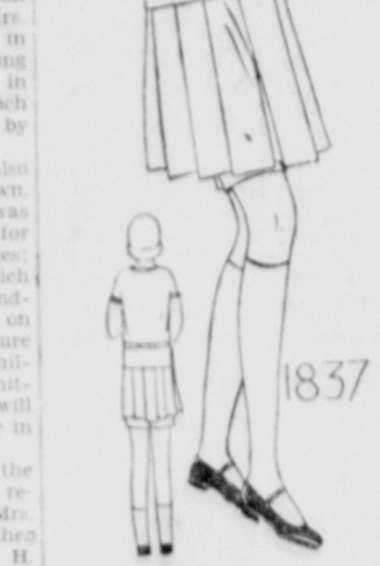

One model comes in a lovely oatmeal shade with simple frock of crepe de chene girdles and made with long sleeves. This can be covered in a jiffy with a light-weight coat of remarkable cut, giving the impression of an entirely different coat-dress. Made of raw silk in a sort of coarse homespun, the coat has a straight back and simple band collar. The upper or jacket sections fall loosely from the collar band and the entire garment can be buttoned all the way down the front. The outer front, the outer coat is of the softest, calman wool, straight and full-length and lined with both the homespun and crepe de chene.

Like all the daytime dresses, the two-coat model is a short one, that is, a few inches below the knees. One dealer shows two-coat frocks for restaurant and evening wear in chiffon and crepe printed in large flower designs. A chiffon jacket or cape matching the background is worn over it and over this a velvet or satin one trimmed with fur.

One dressmaker puts little hip jackets over his dresses and over these a coat of silk or wool. A rep-tailleur in dark blue has a deep band of applied red leather round the bottom and red satin blouse. Over it is worn a well-cut blue wool coat. White serge and coral are combined in a striking two-coat frock and very rich in effect is a coat of green, orange and silver lame worn over a plain black satin frock. Over this is a coat of rich velvet.

Laws may emancipate women; but the old law stands. You can't make terms after you surrender.

Today's Pattern

Just as stunning as can be, but very easy to make, this frock with simple blouse and pleated skirt. The clever neck and the short sleeves are bound in contrasting color which is repeated in the narrow leather belt. Note the straight French panties which have replaced bloomers to a great extent, particularly with tailored dresses.

For Pattern 1837 we suggest linen, pique, broadcloth, gingham or pongee in solid color or white printed in gayly colored designs. The binding may be made of fabric or of broad Red and white combinations are lovely.

May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8 and 10. Size 4 requires 2 5/8 yards of 36 inch material and 1 1/2 yards braid.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model. The pattern has ample and exact instructions. Yardage is given for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

COUPON

This pattern will be delivered upon receipt of 15c. coin or cash, or a self-addressed stamped envelope. Send all orders to SALEM NEWS PATTERN DEPARTMENT, 243 WEST 17TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Old or young, raw or cooked, carrots rank high in their vitamin content—which means that they are splendid food for growing children. And for adults as well. Also, they are in that select class of hardy root vegetables which are available fresh all the year round. If carrots aren't in the market, then there's very little else either.

But despite their food value, their attractive coloring and all the good things said about them, carrots are still a prosaic vegetable—not often included in elegant menus, and too often quietly rejected when served. The flavor is very distinctive—and those who have acquired the habit, more or less stoically, of eating carrots raw, claim that they're quite a tidbit. And that cooking destroys the individuality of this vegetable. Well, the real difficulty about eating raw carrots is that there's never enough time. They have to be chewed endlessly or they will be troublesome. And they are rather crumbly in the winter time.

However, those who develop a fondness for the raw carrot flavor, can still get it by eating them in salad dressing or as a dressing. Carrots that are well cleaned in cold water, slightly scraped, then pulped by running over a grater can be used in a variety of ways. They may be sprinkled over some other vegetable—like peas, potatoes, white or sweet, beets, to give added flavor. Or they may be mixed with a mayonnaise dressing to give color or flavor, or to a French dressing, and then poured over plain lettuce, candied, escarole or other raw green salad.

A very nourishing dish for children is a carrot desert, which is sure to make a great appeal to

Cream of Carrot Soup

2 cups raw grated carrot
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 tablespoon flour
 3 cups of milk
 1/4 teaspoon salt

Melt the butter in a sautépan, add the flour and the milk, stirring constantly until smooth. Then add raw grated carrot and seasoning. Let come to a boil and serve.

This is a quicker way of preparing cream carrot soup than the customary one of boiling the carrots a long time before pressing through a sieve and blending with other ingredients. But the less the carrots are cooked, the better are their vitamins preserved. And although one knows exactly what these precious vitamins are, it is known that they are destroyed by excessive cooking—also that they are very essential to growth. And if we go to the trouble of eating carrots we might just as well derive the full benefit of the effort.

Saute Carrots
 Use very small carrots, or cut large ones into two or three-inch strips. Simmer until tender—about 20 minutes or less, but test from time to time for tenderness so that they shan't overcook. Use only enough water to keep from scorching and there should be almost none in the pan when the carrots are finished. Melt a tablespoon of butter in a sauté pan, and when golden brown toss the carrots in it.

Some like carrots better if a little brown sugar is added to the butter during frying, as well as a pinch of salt.

Charity In America Surprises European

Vienna, Feb. 4.—The preponderance of private charity in public welfare, and the deficiency of state institutions and of social insurance for the aged and invalid, was what struck me most as a public welfare expert during my stay in the United States," said Professor Julius Tandler, the famous Vienna anatomist and hygienist, who, at the same time, is one of Europe's first public welfare experts, after his recent return from a professional visit to the U. S.

"As a physician, on the other hand, I was chiefly impressed by the technical perfection of American hospitals, which perfection, however, is accompanied by considerable neglect of nature."

"Almost all American hospitals I saw owe their existence to private charity and most of them possess an excellent technical equipment. Their doctors and patients have all electricity and X-ray they care for, but they have far less gardens, air and sun, than they are in need of."

"A 'Back to nature' movement would do much good to American mentality of today, which, in medical respect, seems to be over saturated with electricity, vitamins seeking and indoor psychology."

More than 165,000 members have been enrolled in a Belgian physical culture organization for the development of sports on a scientific basis.

The earth in its movements is estimated to generate enough electricity to light the largest ten cities of the United States for a million years.

Any COLD

That cold may lead to something serious, if neglected. The time to do something for it is now. Don't wait until it develops into bronchitis. Take two or three tablets of Bayer Aspirin as soon as you feel a cold coming on. Or as soon as possible after it starts. Bayer Aspirin will head off or relieve the aching and feverish feeling—will stop the headache. And if your throat is affected, dissolve two or three tablets in a quarter-glassful of warm water, and gargle. This quickly soothes a sore throat and reduces inflammation and infection. Read proven directions for neuralgia, for rheumatism and other aches and pains. Genuine Bayer Aspirin is harmless to the heart.
